OFFICE OF IASSISTANT STREET COMMISSIONER NOT ABOLISHED.

MAYOR HUTCHINSON'S VETO

Good Sound Reasons Why the Present Office Is Not Put Out of Commission.

By Mayor Hutchinson's veto of the measure to abolish the office of assistant street commissioner this important office is retained to the city. There are many persons who believe the office to be a good one and necessary and general approval is heard of the Mayor's action. In announcing his veto of the ordinance the Mayor

To the common council of the city of Janesville. Gentlemen:

I herewith return to you without my approval ordinance number 313, entitled

"An Ordinance to Repeal an Ordi-Commissioner in the City of Janesville and to Fix the Salary and Define the Duties of said Officer."

The ordinance sought to be repealpealing it.

The people of the city of Janesville passage of the ordinance creating the was to reduce in some way or anoth for injuries sustained or claimed to have been sustained on the sidewalks of our city. Many of these claims went to suit and large damages were requently recovered against the city.

It is the duty of the assistant street commissioner to inspect sidewalks and to make needful repairs upon the same or to order new ones, and since the creation of the office of assistant street commissioner claims against the city have greatly decreased until at the present time there is seldom C. Dunn had a very enjoyable time a claim for damages made against the city for injuries sustained on a sidewalk.

To the office of assistant street commissioner and to the diligence exercised by the present incumbent together with the efficient work of the city afterney's office during the nast few years belongs the credit of the saving to the city from damage suits. If the office of assistant street commissioner and sidewally inspector was to be abolished I am satisfied that the industry of damage suits will soon flourish again.

Two things concur to prevent these suits; first those inclined to bring damage suits where there is no negligence on the part of the city, know that want of negligence can be prov Sunday Services

WHO WILL LA FOLLETTE " SUPPORT.

The question which is just now agitating the minds of the La Follette contingency in the state is "Who will the junior senator support for governor in the coming campaign?" Lenroot and his admirers are confident that his active influence will be exerted in behalf of the West Superior candidate and this sentiment is the contingency at Madison.

If Peterson is right about Grove, a life-long friend of Governor much doubt as to Babcock's majority, he claims that Senator La Follette is under obligations to support Governor Davidson and that he can not afford to ignore these obligations.

Mr. Peterson doubtless voices the sentiment of a large constituency and arguments will be used to induce the Chianter to the control of th senator to abandon Lenroot and com out squarely for Davidson.

The Peterson letter contains man strong reasons why Senator La Fol lette should support Governor David son, as well as the following signif cant threat:

"I cannot believe that Senator L Follette will, oppose the nomination so he could not prevent Mr. David son's nomination, but he would alienate from himself thousands of voters who loyally supported him in every contest in which he has en gaged in the past twenty years."
